This form is completed by the seller to supply detailed information and documents which may be relied upon for the conveyancing process. It is important that sellers and buyers read the notes below.

Definitions

“Seller” means all sellers together if the property is owned by more than one person

“Buyer” means all buyers together if the property is being bought by more than one person.

Instructions to the Seller

This form must be completed accurately by the seller, who should check through all answers before signing it. It may become part of the contract between the seller and the buyer.

The seller should indicate clearly what is included in the sale of the property by marking each box on this form

- With a tick
- A question mark if not decided or for discussion
- If the item is excluded, the seller may insert a price for the item. The buyer can then decide whether to accept the seller's offer to sell the item. The seller and buyer should inform their conveyancers of any arrangements made about items offered for sale in this way.

If an item is offered for sale, it is the seller's responsibility to negotiate the sale with the buyer directly, or through their estate agent (if applicable). If the conveyancer is instructed to act in the negotiation, the costs of so doing may not be included in the original quote and may be subject to additional charges.

If the seller removes any fixtures, fittings or contents, the seller should be reasonably careful to ensure that any damage caused is minimised.

Unless stated otherwise, the seller will be responsible for ensuring that all rubbish is removed from the property (including from the loft, garden, outbuildings, garages and sheds), and that the property is left in a reasonably clean and tidy condition.

The buyer should check the information given by the seller in this form carefully.
